One Day at a Time

An easy way to lead a tranquil and happy Christian life is to live one day at a time. The tediousness of daily life causes many to get discouraged. Some envision a future of endless trials. Others get disheartened by worrying about negative events that may never materialize. The trials of life prove virtue, build character and make the joys experienced even sweeter.

Life is not easy, but it is also, not as difficult as most make it out to be. Get the most out of life by taking time to observe what is happening around you. Do something positive to help others and count your blessings and you will never have time to complain how unfair life is. Days pass quickly as today becomes tomorrow. Don't miss an opportunity to show your gratitude to God and make the world a better place.

Humans only see a small part of life, while God sees the whole picture. Although many events are beyond our understanding, God draws good out of apparent evil. Only in eternity, will we will fully understand God's plan. In the meantime, it is important to realize that God cares and allows certain tragic events to accomplish a greater good.
